

THE APACHE TROUBLES.

Further Reports on the Indian Depredations in New Mexico.

SILVER CITY, N. M., June 6.—This week has been one of unexpected suspense and terror here. Never have the Indians of their bloody raids come so near the city. The first news of the proximity of the Indians was received on Wednesday, when a party riding a horse, white with foam, dashed into town from Wells' ranch on Bear Creek. He brought word that the hostile Indians were in the hills, that an attack on the ranch, in which were gathered many women and children, was expected, and that help was needed. A volunteer company of thirty-five organized and went to the rescue. On arriving at the ranch parties started for Water Hole, in the hills, where they expected to find the Indians, who, however, had fled. The scouts spent two hours in search of the trail, which led to Little Walnut Creek. Along this stream the most horrible sights were witnessed. Dead bodies frightfully mutilated and mangled were found at short intervals. Houses were pillaged, and household articles scattered everywhere. At William's place, five dead bodies, all scalped, lay in a pool of blood. Two women had been outraged and their breasts cut off. A five-year-old girl had both hands cut off. Following the trail over the hills, Gomez ranch was reached. A number of children were gathered there. They had escaped death by hiding. Their parents, living in the vicinity, had all been killed. Six miles further on, at the house of Felix Marquez, five dead bodies were found. Mrs. Marquez and her seven-year-old daughter had both suffered at the hands of the Indians before being killed. The bodies were as white as knives and presented a sickening spectacle. One of the heroic deeds that occurred on such occasions was performed by little Willie Carpenter. His parents were some distance from the house when the Indians appeared. Willie and his sister were playing in the yard. The boy caught up his sister and slipped into the woods. He crawled a long distance and finally reached his back, having carried his sister five miles on his back. Their parents were wild with joy to find their children, whom they supposed the Indians had carried off.

DEMING, N. M., June 6.—The Indians who passed Duncan Station yesterday, stole two horses and killed a man named Woods. They had been riding all night, and this morning near Hudson Station going south. The telegraph operator says they were going as fast as their ponies could run, whether there were two bands of hostiles or hostiles pursued by Indians we can not determine.

A POSTAL THIEF.

An Idaho Postmaster Robs the Government by a Fraudulent Issue of Orders.

PORTLAND, ORE., June 5.—A Lewiston, Idaho, special says: Isaac Hibbs was appointed postmaster at Lewiston, Idaho, March, 1884. Last January the registered mail pouch was robbed. An official investigation developed nothing and the affair was eventually forgotten. On May 2 last Hibbs left for an alleged silver mine on the Upper Columbia. The postal inspector was alarmed at the continued absence and investigated the affairs of the office. He found that Hibbs had been writing receipts for a large number of registered mail packages, destined for fictitious names, to different points. The office at Lewiston is a mail distributing point for a large number of offices in Northern Idaho and Eastern Washington. Hibbs would issue a money order for a fictitious name at one of these offices, drawn in favor of a bank in Iowa. The customary letter of advice would be forwarded to the paying postmaster, who then wrote to the bank that he would send the money. The money order, town, and enclosed the money orders. He requested the banks to cash them and place the amount to his credit on deposit until he arrived. Later he wrote that he could not make the contemplated mail packages, and that a draft for the amount of money on deposit be returned by registered mail to the fictitious name attached to the money orders. It was always to some office where the mail passed through Lewiston. The drafts arrived by registered mail and Hibbs signed the fictitious names, returned the receipt cards and the transaction was completed. The amount of the defalcation exceeds $20,000. It is expected to reach $50,000.

TREASURY DEFALCATION.

A Confidential Clerk at New Orleans Robs the Treasury of Probably $50,000.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., June 6.—John H. Aufmaire, for seven years a confidential clerk in the United States sub-treasury in this city, has absconded with several thousand dollars of the Government's money. The exact amount of the defalcation has not yet been ascertained, but is believed to be more than $13,000. P. S. Herwig, the sub-treasurer, will make the amount good. Mr. Herwig received a dispatch from Washington this morning, to the effect that telegrams describing the man had been sent to all parts of the country, Mexico, Canada and Europe. It is believed that Aufmaire has gone to Mexico, but as he has been a defaulter to the Government of the United States he can be apprehended and returned from any country. THE SHORTAGE MAY AGGREGATE $50,000.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Secretary of the Treasury to-day received a telegram from J. A. Sample, of the United States Treasurer's Office, who is at present engaged in the investigating affairs of the Assistant Treasurer's Office at New Orleans, reporting that the shortage so far discovered in the accounts of mutilated currency and mutilated bonds, and the amount of the shortage amounts to $25,343.81. Mr. Sample also reported that all efforts to trace the redemption clerk have proved unsuccessful. In speaking of the defalcation to-day, the United States Treasurer proposed to make a full and complete examination of the affairs of that sub-treasury. He says that it is possible that the total shortage may be increased to $50,000, and intimates that Aufmaire is the man who perpetrated the transaction. The Government will suffer no loss, as it is amply protected by the bond of the Assistant Treasurer.

THE COLORADO WATER-SPOT.

DENVER, COLO., June 5.—It is believed that two lives were lost Wednesday by the bursting of the dam of Beaver Park reservoir, in St. Vrain canyon. The missing men have been searched for but not found. The miners in Central gulch, who barely escaped with their lives describe the scene as thrilling. The gulch was quite narrow, and the wall water fifty feet high came sweeping down, moving boulders weighing several tons and everything else in its path. These men lost everything but their lives. Not a barn remains on the ranches in the canyon. It is thought the water spout in the mountains caused the dam to break.

Marine Documents.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Commissioner of Navigation has issued a circular to customs officers in regard to the issue and surrender of marine documents, the principal provision of which is that all marine documents will be numbered by the customs officers progressively as issued, commencing anew with No. 1 on July 1 of each year. Five separate series of numbers will be used as follows: For registers not generally issued on the Northern frontiers for Western rivers, for enrollment, for license under twenty tons (not used on Northern frontiers) for license enrolled vessels, for license to yachts (used and employed exclusively as pleasure vessels or designed as models).

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

—Josiah Harper, an Osego County (N. Y.) farmer, had five hundred dollars under his potato bin and the rats carried off all but ten dollars.

—Until the death of Lord Mayor Notage recently, no Lord Mayor of London has died in the Mansion House for one hundred and thirty-four years.

—It is said that in the works of Shakespeare there are more than five hundred and fifty quotations, allusions, references and sentiments derived from the Scriptures.

—If you desire to buy a monkey or a tame bear or a Guinea-pig cheaply, do not go to an animal store, but repair to some family that has had one of these creatures for thirty days.—Current.

—Sir Justin Aylmer, the heir to an ancient English baronetcy, having a rent-roll of thirty-five thousand dollars a year, young, handsome and engaged, fell from a bicycle the other day and broke his neck.

—Among the best dances of to-day are many of the delights of the ball-room of one hundred years ago: "Boston's Delight," "Pea Straw," "Stony Point," "Haymaking," "Innocent Maid" and "I'll Be Married in My Old Clothes."—Boston Journal.

—Several thousand houses, ranging in size from eight to twenty rooms and provided with every modern convenience, are to be built in Philadelphia, besides a number of French flats, several large and costly churches, and half a dozen or more public institutions.—Philadelphia Press.

—A London journal tells this story of Mr. Spurgeon, who lately visited San Remo. On one occasion, when he was crossing the Italian frontier, the redoubtable preacher was ordered by the douaniers to give up to them certain fruit which he was carrying. Thereupon he retired three paces into the French territory and ate it.

—Thirty-two per cent. of the conscripts enrolled in the Russian army during the past six years were married, showing that a large portion of Russian marriages are early ones. The husbands are compelled to spend five years in the army, during which time their wives and children not infrequently become bums upon the state.

—The census of 1880 gave Texas a population of one million five hundred and ninety-seven thousand six hundred and eighteen. Governor Ireland, of that state, now places it at two million seven hundred and fifty thousand. If correct, this would indicate an increase of about seventy-five per cent. in four years, an increase unequalled by any of the other States.

—An adjustable mirror has been patented by an inhabitant of Charleston, Mass. This invention covers the use of a specially contrived frame for holding the mirror, and in which the mirror can be readily adjusted and held in any desired position, for use of either tall or short people, or for children sitting on the floor, so that mirrors of medium size may be made more useful than large mirrors as ordinarily hung.—Boston Post.
